OVERVIEW

NEF Workforce Housing Fund I is a value-add fund that targets investment opportunities in the development and acquisition of affordable rental housing. The goal is to create and preserve housing that fulfills the need for moderate-income individuals and families that struggle to find affordable housing options in neighborhoods close to job opportunities.

WHAT IS WORKFORCE HOUSING?

In most metropolitan areas, many individuals and families struggle to buy or rent homes close to where they work. Workforce housing is largely defined as housing that is affordable to moderate income households earning between 60-120 percent AMI. Renters living in this type of housing represent workers in a variety of fields such as but not limited to construction, retail, food service, hospitality, education and healthcare.
